RESOURCES FOR ACTIVELY SUPPORTING THE BLACK LIVES MATTER MOVEMENT

SOLIDARITY AND AWARENESS are important steps in our journey toward justice for the Black community. But it's not enough to dismantle the racist systems deeply ingrained into our society. We must rally and actively support racial justice and anti-racism through educating ourselves and others, supporting policies and politicians who will uplift marginalized communities, and signing petitions. We can also support the movement financially by donating to anti-racist organizations and supporting Black creators, artists and business owners. One of the most important tasks allies should be undertaking is self-educating on racial issues and the systems that were intentionally designed to benefit white people while pushing black people into poverty and violence. Below we've included a list of resources that are good places to start in terms of self-education, donating and activism.
